Subsequently Waldeck lodge filed a petition for mandamus asking the court to order the grand lodge to issue it the password in order to obtain the benefits of the order. This privilege, it was shown, had been refused by the grand lodge. The court was told that the petitioners were natives of Ger-many, more or less unfamiliar with the English language, and that at the time the lodge was admitted by the supreme lodge it was understood that the man ritual should be used in all pro-ceedings of Waldeck lodge. The con-stitution and bylaws expressly provid-ed that all proceedings of the lodge should be conducted in German. This order was also promulgated to all the German-speaking lodges and caused a good deal of strife and dissension among the German-speaking lodges. Waldeck lodge refused to comply with the demand and the chancellor presented charges to the grand tribunal charging the lodge with violating laws. The charges made were that Waldeck lodge had assisted and enour aged the translation and copy of the aged the translation and copy of the aged the translation and copy of the ritual into German, contrary to the laws of the order and that it disobeved the commands of the grand chancellor. The grand tribunal after consilering these charges found the lodge guilty of disobediance of the chancellor. When Mrs. Vermilye was in the Water She Floated.

Norwich, Conn., Aug. 11.—Mrs. J. C. Vermilye, of New York city, who is spending the summer at the pleasant riverside hamlet of Gale's Ferry, south of this city, is an admirable carswoman, and every afternoon in her featherweight skiff she goes out on the tranquill bosom of the Thames. A dress and skirt are in the way in a shell, so Mrs. Vermilye done handsome and jaunty spending the summer at the pleasant of riverside hamlet of Gale's Ferry, south of this city, is an admirable parswoman, and every afternoon in her feather weight skiff she goes out on the tranquill become of the Thames. Her boat leaked a drop, so she stood up to bail it out, when, prestol a misstep, a hop, skip and a jump, the boat flooped and the fair boatswoman was struggling in the water.

Mrs. Vermilye cannot grim much

After some minutes a ferryman saw the woman, and went out in a boat and got Mrs. Vermilye. Dr. Gardner gave her a tonic and stimulant, and rived at any settled course of action same irregular character as last week and the stagnation was even more intense. The announcement of engage-ments of gold for shipment on tomorrow's European steamers had a de-pressing influence. A raid was made on Burlington on the strength of the small Nebraska corn crops shown by the government report and the stock was forced down 14 per cent. London bought on arbitrage during the trading but owing to the failure of the telegraphic communication with the other side, the stocks purchased had to be resold here. Tobacco was heavy on selling orders from the south induced by reports of a combination alleged to have been entered into by southern and western manufacturers against the trust. At the opening of business prices gained slightly but a pressure to sell General Electric was quickly developed which sent that property down I per cent and weakened the general list sympathetically. The market closed steady in tone. Compared with Saturday the last prices made are irregular, the most important changes being: Declines—Burlington and Pullman I per cent; Tobacco It's per cent. Advances—Tobacco preferred I per cent. Cotton Oil preferred I's per cent and St. Paul I and Omaha preferred 2's per cent. telegraphic communication with cent.

Bonds were quiet and in the main firm. The sales were $1,207,000.

New York, Aug. 12.—The Evening Post's London cablegram says: The stock markets were quiet today but generally firm. The settlement disclosed a small account in Americans which were carried over at 2½ to 3 per cont. Prices closed a triffe below the best. South Americans were strong, Kaffirs booming. Paris exchanges at the guaranteed point.

PARENTS PROSTRATED BY GRIEF.

To the Editor of the Eagle; to your Associates; to the Mayor and City Departments, and to the People of Wichita Departments, and to the People of Wichita:

In the depths of our misery and selfishness of our grief we cannot lose sight of the noble services, which in every way that a generous humanity could suggest, have been exerted in our behalf, in the efforts to recover our beloved boy. With every throb of your warm hearts, you would have given us back our beautiful boy a hundred times if human endeavor had availed. My stricken wife relized this fully, and it partiy sustained her through the awful period of suspense, before my arrival. To the unremitting efforts of our neighbors, I owe the preservation of my life partner from dangers that threatened to overwhelm her.

Fathers! Mothers! Friends! I cannot name you, but forever shrined with the memory of our little Harry are your heroic efforts for us, each one of you, and the gratitude of a heartbroken family is rour while life lasts.

MR. AND MRS. J. H. PURDY.
